About The Company

Urban Design is the result of a fusion between a creative interior designer and an architect.

As a business, we have established a reputation in the Tanzanian market for our ability to design and build opulent, sophisticated interiors that are ageless in quality, spectacular in design, and functional in space. We do this by incorporating our expertise in the preferences and particular tastes of our clients. Most significantly, we adhere to the budget and timelines set by our clients.

Another aspect of our business is a modern furniture store we usually source items from for our design. Urban Design has a showroom along Chole Road in Masaki, where we consult clients from. The showroom also acts as a real-life catalog of our products.
